ASK BOND ISSUE

TO REPAIR WASH—INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT COMMITTEE REPORTS TO CHAMBER

An adjourned meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was held in the Chamber of Commerce building, 1011 West Broadway, Friday evening, August 20, 1915. J. W. Usilton, president of the chamber, presided and R. M. Jackson, secretary, served in his usual capacity. After the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting, Chairman Usilton made the following suggestions:

Gentlemen: Several suggestions made by me at our last meeting were not acted upon, which occasioned this extra meeting. In presenting these questions I would like to state that I am not attached to any particular plan as a solution to any of the questions submitted. It is well known that if any of them are recommended, a bond issue is necessary to obtain funds for carrying out the plans suggested. We wish to state at this juncture that I do not believe that it is up to the Chamber of Commerce to direct the manner in which the wash shall be repaired, as an engineer and the city officials have been chosen for this purpose, and it is merely our duty to indorse or reject the propositions, which means that we are not in favor of the proposition and will not give it our support.

First, is it advisable to wait for the action of the county supervisors to strengthen Verdugo wash before the winter rains?

Second, shall the chamber indorse the purchase of a high-power fire-fighting apparatus?

Third, is it desirable to urge the purchase of ground for a central park, or a number of parks, at this time? At this juncture I would caution you against the rock on which past efforts have failed—that is, location. Let us be unselfish and drop real estate deals and a desire to have it close to our property and think of the city as a whole.

Acting as school trustee is a philanthropic position, but, if accepted, it should be closely attended to. Information regarding the recent purchase of land for a school building leads us to ask a few questions: What publicity was given that a school site was wanted in the southeast part of the city? Were the propositions submitted passed upon by the school board as to location, price, etc., or was the question delegated to others? Did one representative settle the entire question? Was a direct commission paid to a real estate agent on the site selected, or was it suggested that the 5 per cent commission be added to the purchase price?

Is it necessary that in the purchase of ground for a schoolhouse, where the property is bought from a single person, to employ an agent? Is it fair to the citizens of the school district?

The first question taken up for discussion by those present was ways and means of raising money to repair the wash at the turn in the channel just west of Verdugo road. Citizens of Glendale who are aware of the conditions at that place say that big rainstorms will cause the water to overflow the banks at that point and run down through parts of the city of Glendale. Whether it would be better to make permanent improvements on the wash or temporary improvements was a question that received earnest consideration. After much discussion on the part of those present, a motion prevailed that the city trustees be requested to call an election for the purpose of voting a bond issue of $20,000, the same to be used for the permanent improvement of the wash at the place under consideration.

The matter of the condition of the bridges across the Verdugo wash at Louise street, Brand boulevard and Central avenue was discussed and it seemed to be the opinion of those present that the supports of those bridges should be of such a character that they would not interfere with the free passage of the water. On motion the chair was instructed to appoint a committee to confer with the Pacific Electric company, asking that company to take steps to remove all obstructions on their property from the wash. The chair appointed the following committee to wait upon the railroad company: A. T. Cowan, H. P. Coker, John Roman, S. C. Packer, H. A. Wilson.

That a new fire engine is greatly needed by the city of Glendale was the unanimous opinion of all present and on motion the city trustees were requested to arrange for the purchase of an auto fire truck equipped (Continued on page three)

WANT NEW SCHOOLS

EAGLE ROCK PLANS FOR BUNGALOW SCHOOL AT EACH END OF THE CITY

Before many days are past the school vacation will be over and the serious work of educating the youth of the districts will begin once more. In view of the approaching education season, Eagle Rock is diligently endeavoring to put its house in order. Eagle Rock stretches itself out over a territory about three and a half miles in length. The present school is situated about the center of the city and up till now has been found convenient enough.

"Eagle Rock has outgrown its present accommodations," said Mr. C. C. Miller of 222 Peyton avenue to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "The old central school has done excellent service in its day. Now it is overcrowded and the city has spread out quite a deal since that building was erected."

"Besides that, as the city spreads out the people who have their residences at each end of the city complain that their children have too far to walk to school. So much of a burden has this distance been felt to be that some families residing in the east end of the city are sending their children to schools outside our boundaries, which are nearer to them."

"There is no doubt that the central school is too far from each end of the city for children of the first and fourth grades, and provision must be made for them. It is believed that if schools were erected at each end of the city—east and west—the city would cease to group itself around the school in the center as it does now and would develop the city on different lines."

"At the public meeting held here Thursday night for the purpose of considering this matter it was resolved to authorize the school board to proceed with preparations for erecting temporary schools at each end of the city, also to make investigations and get estimates for the proposed east and west bungalow schools, as well as to get plans for an addition to the present central school in order to take care of the vastly increased school population. It was also resolved that another meeting should be held four weeks from Thursday evening to consider the matter in the light of the new details that would be available by that time."

"Eagle Rock's present school board consists of G. J. Tucker, R. L. McNitt and J. T. Bailey. They are working earnestly and faithfully in the interests of education in Eagle Rock and may be depended on to bring forward plans that will be acceptable to the people."

As far as can be gathered from further investigation in the districts of Eagle Rock, that community, like many others, has advanced ideas regarding the housing and equipment of its educational establishments. The school of today occupies a position similar to that which the church occupied with regard to the public in the middle ages. Then the municipalities built the churches just as the municipalities are now building the schoolhouses. Each community tries to get the very best it can and while a number of stereotyped buildings are being erected, to all outward appearance like factories, yet there is generally sufficient knowledge and good taste to build schools suitable to the needs of each community.

When Eagle Rock shall have completed the work of erecting suitable bungalow schools at each end of the community, it will have an equipment that will undoubtedly be a great credit to its enterprise, but better still, will be a convenience to the children. That community may be trusted to build schools that will be based on good thought, good proportion, good taste, simplicity and the endeavor to give to each building a character entirely its own.

Delicious refreshments were served and the player-piano discoursed most excellent music.

SUMMER BIBLE READINGS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

"Antichrist, the Man of Sin," will be the subject of an important discourse at the First Baptist church Sunday evening. Pastor Troy will continue the Sunday evening Bible readings through the month of August. All earnest students of the word are cordially invited to attend. Much light will be thrown on the present world situation. It will be shown that God is on his throne and all things are working toward the glorious consummation of divine revelation. More than all of the interests of this present evil life is the hope of the world that is yet to come. The rule of blood and iron will surely give place to the rule of triumphant love. The eternal principles of the kingdom of heaven will ultimately prevail.

"Be patient, therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and the latter rain."

"Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts; for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh." James 5:7, 8.

TOURING AMERICA

ENTERTAIN TRAVELERS—BOY SCOUTS GIVE SHOW—TROPICO NOTES

Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin of West Acacia street entertained as her guests this week Mr. Griffin's mother and sister, Mrs. Josephine Arnold and Mrs. James P. Griffin of New York City. The famous picture, "The Adventures of a Boy Scout," will be shown Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Star theater and although there has been a large number of tickets sold, yet there will be a seat for each one, as the pictures will be shown both evenings. There have not been many pictures produced that can equal the Boy Scout acting or that traces the practical value of an organization so completely. This picture proved to be very famous in the eastern and middle states and was very highly recommended to the Tropic Boy Scouts by editors, preachers, professors and civic officials. There will be some high-class music in connection with the pictures. The proceeds will be utilized in their equipment and camping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kimberly have issued very unique and pretty invitations to a house warming Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly have but recently come to Tropic and are now occupying their handsome new home on the San Fernando boulevard.

Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock, her son, Allen K. Pollock, and mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kasseall, accompanied by their house guest, Miss Bess B. Blaney of Philadelphia, Pa., leave the first of the week for San Francisco, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Pollock's sister, Mrs. Emery Gates.

Mrs. Jeff Crawford and daughter, Miss Marian Crawford of Corona, are the guests of their cousin, Miss Cora Hickman of West Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto P. Snyder of South Brand boulevard are enjoying a delightful sojourn in San Francisco attending the Panama-Pacific exposition and enjoying the interesting points of the northern city.

Miss Ethel Baker has returned from a most delightful trip to San Francisco. Miss Baker was one of the successful contestants in the recent contest conducted by a local paper and received for her hard work a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Miss Helen Dildine of Toledo, O., a granddaughter of Gen. William H. Gibson, Ohio's famous orator, visited her cousin, Dr. A. M. Duncan, and other relatives in Tropic this week. Miss Dildine on her western trip has spent some time in Alaska and at the expositions.

Dr. W. V. Watson of Plateau City, Colo., called on his cousin, Dr. A. M. Duncan of Tropic, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Hillman of 305 Paloma avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth, Virginia place, Tropic, are on a week's motor trip to Idylwild and other mountain points.

The young people of the Tropic Methodist Epworth League and the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor societies expect to have another one of their enjoyable summer union meetings Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Presbyterian church. The leader will be Oscar Burchard, the topic being "Be True to Your Ideals," and the Bible lesson, Acts 26:12-19.

Miss Lois Duncan of 307 South San Fernando road, Tropic, is spending a few days with Miss Hazel Green of Lordsburg.

always follow true faith; never precede. Physical or mental distress may make us feel we are not Christians. A mistake may discourage us; but when faith is present we can rise as on eagle wings above all adversity; for no prison walls can hold us, no trial can dishearten us, no famine can unhorse our trust in God, no persecution can bow us low. We stand firm on the "eternal rock of ages." Joy and happiness are ours.

As a sample of what the house will offer the public the opening program promises well and should prove quite attractive. The management will pay special attention to children and will run the house with a view to the comfort and convenience of the public.

TO OPEN NEW THEATRE

E. F. MOHLER WILL MANAGE MOVIE HOUSE AT ISABEL AND BROADWAY

Glendale will have another "movie" house running in good order next week. The Glendale theater, at the corner of Isabel and Broadway, which has been closed for quite a long time, will be reopened Wednesday, August 25, under the management of Mr. E. F. Mohler. The house has been thoroughly renovated and put into first-class shape by the new manager and with the patronage which it will undoubtedly deserve, it should prove a remunerative enterprise.

Mr. E. F. Mohler has had large experience in the "movie" line on the Pacific coast and his experience will stand him in good stead in Glendale. Mr. Mohler was at one time captain of the San Francisco baseball team. He held that position for seven years, during which time he made many friends and showed quite a talent for organization. He also played in the Coast league for more than ten years. After his strenuous baseball experience Mr. Mohler is finding the "movie" field rather a rest. His old activity is certain to make itself favorably felt.

The Glendale theater will handle the ever-popular Keystone comedies, Mutual pictures and the latest serials. Mr. Mohler will open his new house on Wednesday with "Gussie the Gopher," which is an extremely funny Keystone comedy; "The World Upside Down," an affecting Reliance drama, and "Eva's Lucky Day," a Beauty comedy. The serial, "The Diamond from the Sky," a thrilling story, will be begun.

STAG DINNER

A party of ten were honored at a stag dinner given Thursday evening at the Carpenter apartments by Mr. S. C. Gorman and Mr. Al Gann. The dinner was prepared by Mr. Gorman and was very much enjoyed by all the guests. Following the dinner the company was delightfully entertained with music by the Big Four—Messrs. Gann, Gorman, Nichols and LaCoasta. The guests were Messrs. George Steineke, Lewis Steineke, George Frisbie, Layne Perry, Bert Goodenfelder, Frank Benton, Chester Nichols, Arthur Platz, Ernest Reyes, Harry Martindale and Vernon LaCoasta.

DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Fred Anderson of 320 Cedar street was hostess at a dinner party on Wednesday given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Smith of Houstonia, Mo., who are spending a few months in Glendale. Besides the honored guests, there were present Mrs. Lester H. Jones of Cedar street and Mrs. C. R. Norton of West Third street. The afternoon was spent in social intercourse and needlework.

MRS. SARAH A. JOHNSON

After a long illness, Mrs. Sarah A. Johnson of 1706 Vine street, Glendale, passed away at her home on Thursday, August 19, 1915, at the age of 79 years. She leaves surviving her daughter, Mrs. O. Spencer of West Broadway, Glendale, and a son, Dr. Carl Johnson of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held at Forest Lawn cemetery Friday morning at 10:30. Dr. Julius Soper officiating. The Jewel City Undertaking company was in charge.

PAPERS WORTH THE MONEY

The two papers, the Glendale Evening News and the Tri-City Progress (weekly), for which the contestants are asking you to subscribe, are well worth the money.

The Evening News will be two years old September 1, and in these two years the paper has made many warm friends. The Tri-City Progress is a weekly paper and is intended to go into homes where the Evening News is not taken. Both papers are published from a publishing and printing plant that has been equipped at an expense of $18,000.

Friends of contestants who prefer to pay subscriptions for either paper several years in advance will be perfectly safe in doing so. Likewise, it will not be an unkind act toward a friend to advise him to subscribe for either of these papers, for in getting them that friend will get value received for every cent of money paid.

Following is the position occupied by the contestants at 1:30 o'clock today:

- 1—Morse Freeman.
- 2—Miss Cora Hickman.
- 3—Mrs. J. C. May.
- 4—Miss Ruth Wright.
- 5—Mrs. Albert Pearce.
- 6—Newton McGillis.
- 7—Miss Virginia Graham.

COMPENSATION FOR RUSSIA

There may be many reasons for Russia's imperturbability in the face of German successes in Russian Poland. It is credibly stated that the Russians are confidently waiting for the British to break the Turkish lines and open up the way from Constantinople to the land of the czar, whose troops re-equipped and furnished with the ammunition that can then be poured into that country will turn on the Teuton and drive him out.

That program may or may not be carried out. Meantime, Russia has accomplished one more of those diplomatic, bloodless victories which in the past gave her so much territory. By the signing of a treaty at Kiakhta, Siberia, between Russia, China and Mongolia, the czar gets territory in that part of the world amounting to 910,000 square miles. That is the outer part of Mongolia. It will only be the matter of a few years before the Muscovites will absorb the rest.

Mongolia has in all an area of 1,365,000 square miles, territory equivalent in extent to twelve of the largest states in this country. So that even if Russia should lose her section of the ancient kingdom of Poland permanently, which is by no means settled, she will have ample compensation for that loss in her new gain in the Far East.

With the astute caution that, when necessary, is always at hand in Russian policy, Mongolia is not to be annexed right away, although many Russian newspapers have been urging the complete annexation of the new territory. By the new treaty, which is merely a confirmation of two previous agreements, a tripartite rule will be established in Mongolia, consisting of Mongolia, China and Russia. It will be readily understood in the light of what has happened in other Russian "spheres of influence" that China and Mongolia will soon disappear from the tri-governmental arrangement. It may astonish those who are not aware of Russia's resources and of her supreme confidence in the power and might of "Holy Russia" to note that these negotiations as to Mongolia have been going on all the time the Germans have been hammering at the czar's men and beating them back through Russian Poland; but the Muscovite never relinquishes a policy. He pursues it steadily and usually ends by getting what he set out to obtain.

By this policy Russia has worked her way slowly but persistently along toward the borders of China. As in ancient days her Cossacks pursued the Kalmuck Tartars to the borders of the Celestial empire and losing them in that haven of refuge determined to conquer the territory that defied them and ultimately "acquired" it; so in these latter days Russia has so skilfully played her cards that she has managed to secure 1,150,000 square miles of Mongolian and Manchurian territory; while Japan, victor over Russia in the great war, has obtained only 140,600 square miles. The new arrangement brings Russia and Japan face to face once more in Manchuria and Mongolia and it would not be astonishing to see another war between those countries over that territory.

FROM AUTO DRIVERS' POINT OF VIEW

Quite a deal of prominence is being given at present to a second decision of the supreme court of the state of California reversing an award of $12,500 granted O. C. Griffin by a jury. The decision, which is bringing so much comfort to the hearts of the railroads that they are sending out letters making it known to all the newspapers in the state, says among other things:

"A person approaching a railroad track, which is itself a warning of danger, must take advantage of every opportunity to look and listen. It is the duty of the driver on a highway approaching a railroad crossing to use ordinary care in selecting a time and a place to look and listen for coming trains. It is his duty to use all of his faculties, and it is not enough if he merely listen, believing that the people in charge of an approaching engine will ring a bell or sound a whistle."

That is, of course, very cheering to the railway companies, who will doubtless take for granted that it relieves them of all responsibility regarding the dangers of the grade crossings that they have so liberally installed across the public highways of the land and the public streets of the cities. Naturally from the point of view that the roads and streets belong to the railroads at the crossings, the public may protest till doomsday, but its voice will receive nothing but contemptuous regard in the courts.

However, in the long run, the public is above the temporary decision of any judge or set of judges. The origin of law is in the heart of the people. There have been decisions even of the supreme court of the United States, such as that in the Dred-Scott case, that was in the interest of slaveholders, which posterity reversed most summarily. So it need not be doubted that something will happen to make it incumbent on railroads to "Stop, look, listen," and see that they are not going to run down some auto load of innocent people, with hearts full of gladness, who believe in their rights as American citizens and trust to the aegis of that citizenship to protect them. Why should not the trains "on approaching a railroad crossing use ordinary care in selecting a time and place to look and listen for coming autos?"

Take a glance at some of their crossings and you will perceive that they are so built round and concealed that it is impossible for an auto to see any distance along as the railroad is approached. In the case in point the driver of the auto did stop and look, but he saw nothing.

What is really needed, however, is a decision of the courts compelling all railroads to carry their roads either under the roadways by means of a tunnel or over them by means of a bridge. Should such a law go into effect it would doubtless occasion some expense, but it would save money, that being the railroad's point of view, and it would save life, that being the public's point of view.

There are prospects that peace will be restored in Mexico. Villa has consented to discuss terms proposed by the Pan-American governments. The condition of Mexico at present resembles that given by the Scoto-Celt Galgacus of territory conquered by the Romans—"They make a desert and call it 'peace'."

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

This is the great season for vacations. The seashore, mountain, desert, canyon, city, ranch—all receive their due portion of visitors seeking recreation and varied interests for a few days. The strain of modern life demands a short cessation, a change, a digression. Competition along every line of human interest is driven so hard, physical and mental powers need rest and relief. So wisely the short vacation of a few weeks is taken to build up what has been torn down during the rest of the year. Along this line of thought the pastor of the English Lutheran church proposes to speak this coming Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, making a helpful application of the subject, "Hope a Good Camping Ground."

The following musical program will be given:

Organ voluntary, "The Evening Chimes."
Baritone solo, "Guide Thou My Bark," by the pastor.
Sunshine choir, "The Twinkling Stars."
Offertory, "Arietta."
Organ postlude, "Prelude."

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The following selections will be rendered by the Presbyterian orchestra before the regular Sunday school session tomorrow at 9:25 a. m.:

March, "American Soldier" (Francis A. Myers).
Helmweh—Longing for Home (A. Jungmann).
Gloria from Twelfth Mass (W. A. Mozart).
March, selected.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

California. The Sunday evening services are being omitted during the absence of the pastor.

with pumping engine. The question of a public park for Glendale received its usual attention, the argument produced being mainly in favor of taking steps at the proper time to secure possession of Verdugo park, however a motion prevailed that the Chamber of Commerce park committee of which W. J. Clendenin is chairman, invite the municipal park committee, of which Franklin P. Wilson is chairman, to meet with them and that the report of these two committees be made at the next Chamber of Commerce meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, which has been very busily engaged for the past several months preparing a report, submitted the following:

Gentlemen: The undersigned were appointed members of a committee for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon the feasibility of establishing an industrial district in the city of Glendale or in territory contiguous thereto; the purpose of said report being to set forth the advantages and disadvantages, if any, of the establishment of such a district in the city of Glendale.

Your committee has viewed all of the territory in the city of Glendale that to it seemed most likely to be suitable for such district, bearing in mind the purposes for which such district should be established, to-wit:

That in such district or territory so set apart for such industrial district that lumber yards, manufactures, planing mills and all industries now being conducted in the city of Glendale or hereafter to be established therein, be located in a certain portion of the city, that would be most accessible to railroads, street cars, public highways and other facilities. The committee has met numerous times, formulated a plan which to it seemed the most feasible and would bring about with most expediency the result desired. In furtherance of said plan, the committee has communicated with and called upon the officers of the Southern Pacific railroad, has talked with business men and officers of the city of Glendale, has viewed the location, having in mind all of the desirable features that should attend such a location and has come to the following conclusion, which it respectfully reports:

That it would be desirable to have established in the city of Glendale, or in territory contiguous thereto, an industrial district, the same to be located at a point easily accessible to the railroads, highways and street railways; that it should be located at a place where few, if any, residences are now located. That all the lumber yards, planing mills, factories or other business now being conducted in the city of Glendale, or contiguous thereto, be removed to such location within a reasonable period of time. That the necessary switches and sidings be laid for the purpose of loading and unloading cars. That the streets and highways leading thereto be improved so as to bear heavy hauling.

That by the establishment of such a district it would define for all time, or at least for a long time in the future, the location of all industries that are seeking to locate in or near the city of Glendale.

Your committee, in its endeavor to bring about a satisfactory solution of this problem, has taken up with the proper officers of the Southern Pacific railroad, the establishment of a passenger and freight depot at a point at or near Broadway and San Fernando road, with proper facilities for handling all freight and passenger traffic. Also to have maintained a telegraph office and by doing this to place Glendale on the map of the railroad companies as an independent city. At the present time we have no station on any railroad or line of railway, no freight depot other than the freight depot on the Salt Lake railway and the freight and passenger depot of the Pacific Electric street railway.

The location at or near Broadway and San Fernando road for an industrial site appeals to the committee for the following reasons:

1. As yet very little building of any kind has been done in that section.
2. It is sufficiently near the city of Glendale to be within reach of the residents of the city without too much trouble, and still sufficiently far away from the center of the city to not interfere with residence or business property.
3. It is accessible to the Southern Pacific railroad, the San Fernando boulevard, the high-power lines of

RETIRED FARMERS

The following clipping from the Saturday Evening Post of August 7th, 1915, is a condition with which many of us are familiar and it is indicative of the attractiveness of farming as a profession:

"A CORRESPONDENT writes: Can you find a country town anywhere in the Middle West that does not contain a number of retired farmers? Some towns seem to be half populated with them. Look over those same towns and see, how many retired grocers blacksmiths, plumbers, or even doctors or lawyers you can find. Is there any other trade or profession that produces so large a proportion of men who can retire while they are still in good physical condition, with enough capital to insure them comfortable maintenance for the rest of their days and a nice nest egg to leave to their descendants?"

These farmers retired as a rule not only through the incomes they took off their ranches, but in most cases through increased valuation that took place in the land itself during their ownership. In a word, they bought at the right price and sold at the increase. I want to tell you of land selling at $200 an acre with water within 4 miles of a city of 50,000. The fastest growing city of its size in California, where you can net 50 per cent per year off your land and it logically offers greatly increased valuation in the future. Get my little booklet FUNDAMENTAL FARMING FACTS and learn how you can become one of the farmers who are able to retire in a comparatively few years with a comfortable fortune.

the electric companies, the gas mains and oil mains—in fact, it has every advantage for the furnishing of light, power and transportation convenient for all business that may be established. It is at a point practically the lowest in the city and would therefore not interfere, from the standpoint of drainage, with any part of the city. It would be convenient for the railway station, should the same be established, and while a portion of this section is not yet within the city limits, a way could be provided for the annexation of the same if that be desirable.

As stated before, the committee has communicated with the officers of the Southern Pacific with a view to having a station established as above stated, but as yet has received no definite reply. It is well to bear in mind that this matter can be taken up before the railroad commission with a view to having a station established as contemplated by the committee in the event of a failure or refusal of the railway company to do so.

With the establishment of a depot we believe all other things would of necessity follow for the proper location and establishment of such a district.

The committee, having in view the establishment of a depot as one of the important features in its plan, and the usual delay in dealing with the officials of a railway resulting, has of necessity been delayed in making a report, it being the desire of the committee to render the report at a time when it had the assurance of the establishment of a depot. It has been the judgment of the members of the committee that the report be withheld until such time as something definite along the line indicated had been accomplished, it being the belief of the committee that publicity before the accomplishment of that purpose would not aid in bringing about the result desired. But, on account of a desire on the part of many people who are interested to know what the result of the committee's work has been, and upon a request made for a report at this time, this report is now made.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK L. MUHLEMAN,
FREDERICK BAKER,
JOHN ROMAN,
J. H. FLOWER,
E. H. EMERY.
